Bermudagrass Kikuyugrass together make Pro Sports Field Extreme, exceptional turf—accelerating growth

When people think of great grasses for outdoor activities, Bermudagrass and Kikuyugrass come to mind. But instead of choosing one or the other between these great grasses, Stover Seed offers a mixed solution: Pro Sports Field Extreme is 60% Royal TXD Bermudagrass, known for its exceptionally high turf quality, and 40% Whittet Kikuyugrass, which accelerates growth and handles warm conditions well.

Additionally, Pro Sports Field Extreme offers unparalleled wear resistance that makes it ideal for any athletic facility or park that needs to handle high traffic and activity levels. Imagine the near-instant results you get from placing this grass mixture at a playground, dog park, or any lawn. It's a game changer for the warm season.

This grass does more than just endure high activity levels. It sets and grows quickly, emerging anywhere from 7 to 21 days after seeding. With adequate irrigation and a higher soil temperature, this grass will quickly germinate and you'll have your warm season outdoor solution in no time. When daytime temperatures approach 80 degrees or higher, this warm season grass will excel in providing life and vigor to your facility.

Even better, this grass has met the rigorous TWCA criteria and has been proven to help meet water conservation goals. You can feel good planting this grass knowing you're doing your part to conserve water usage in your area.

Furthermore, it's a proven combination for sports fields in Southern California and can handle drought conditions with ease. Low maintenance, moderate shade tolerance, and its excellent growth habit means you can get started soon and see the results of your efforts.

To get started using this grass, you'll benefit from placing it with starter fertilizer and in an area with good drainage for the roots to develop. It tolerates a wide variety of soils, and thrives in warmer months with a balanced fertilizer during growth periods.

Don't wait to give yourself the high-performance turfgrass mixture that you deserve. Pro Sports Field Extreme offers you the resilience, water conservation, and growth that you need to thrive in warm seasons and bring new life to your field. 🌱
